Chapter 1 : Using the Maintain Schedule of Classes and Schedule New Course Components

Two components will be used to set up and maintain the Schedule of Classes. What you are trying to accomplish will determine which component to use.

Maintain Schedule of Classes

Path: Curriculum Management > Schedule of Classes > Maintain Schedule of Classes

Use this first navigation when modifying classes that were rolled from the same term of the preceding year. This includes adding or deleting class sections.

Schedule New Course

Path: Curriculum Management > Schedule New Course > Schedule New Course

Use this second navigation when adding classes that were NOT rolled from the same term of the preceding year and do not exist within the Maintain Schedule of Classes. Additionally, use the Schedule New Course component for new classes that have never been offered previously.

The functionality of the Maintain Schedule of Classes and the Schedule New Course components are the same but the difference is in the results returned from a search. A search within the:

- ☐ Maintain Schedule of Classes component returns a list of only the courses that have at least one section scheduled within the term specified.
- ☐ Schedule New Course component returns a list of all the courses in the catalog that meet the search criteria.

If the course that needs to be scheduled does not appear in the Search results when using the Schedule New Course component, the course cannot be scheduled. There are three reasons for this result. The course:

- ☐ Has not been set up in the Course Catalog, or
- ☐ Is currently Inactive in the Course Catalog, or
- ☐ Has not been 'Approved' in the Course Catalog.

Check the course in the Course Catalog component to verify this information (Path: Curriculum Management > Course Catalog > Course Catalog). If more information is needed, contact the Office of the University Registrar.

Chapter 2 : Associated Class

Certain classes require that students enroll simultaneously in a graded component section and a non-graded component section, for example, enroll simultaneously in a Lecture and a Lab. These students meet course requirements by enrolling in both the Lecture and the Lab, but they only receive a grade from the Lecture section.

The Lecture (Graded component) sections are set up as the enrollment sections. The Lab and Discussion (Non-Graded component) sections are set up as the non-enrollment sections.

Prior to scheduling lecture classes with required labs or discussions, it should be decided if:

- students enrolling in a lecture must take a specified lab/discussion section (Lecture A takes Labs A1 or A2 and Lecture B takes Labs B1 or B2), or
- students enrolling in a lecture are allowed to take any lab/discussion that fulfills the course requirements (Lecture A takes Lab A1, A2, B1 or B2 and Lecture B takes Lab A1, A2, B1 or B2).

This decision affects what is entered in the Associated Class field on the Basic Data page.

For example:

☐ One Graded section and one Non-Graded section

Students will select and be enrolled in Section 001. They automatically will be prompted to enroll in Section 010.

☐ One Graded section and choices of Non-Graded sections

Students will select and be enrolled in Section 001. They automatically will be prompted to choose Section 010 or Section 011.

Association Numbering

For classes where students enrolling in a lecture must take a specified lab/discussion, the number entered into the Associated Class field for the lecture (graded component) should match with the number entered for the lab/discussion (non-graded component). For example:

- Lecture A takes Labs A1 or A2 ... these classes would all be assigned the number 1
- Lecture B takes Labs B1 or B2 ... these classes would all be assigned the number 2

The number assigned would continue to increment up for every grouping.

For classes where students enrolling in a lecture are allowed to take any lab/discussion, all lectures would be assigned their own number beginning with 1 and incrementing up for each lecture, but the lab/discussion sections would all be assigned the number 9999. For example:

- Lecture A and Lecture B may take Lab A1, A2, B1 or B2 ... Lecture A is assigned the number 1, Lecture B is assigned the number 2, and Labs A1, A2, B1 and B2 are all assigned the number 9999.

For classes that do not have any type of pairing (i.e., a course that is only offered as a lecture), all sections should be assigned a unique class association number beginning with 1 and continue to increment up for every lecture. For example:

- Lecture A is assigned the number 1
- Lecture B is assigned the number 2
- Lecture C is assigned the number 3

Any questions regarding Associated Class numbering should be directed to the Office of the University Registrar.

Chapter 3 : Class Attributes

A Class Attribute is an identifier that can help describe the type of section that is being offered. Class Attributes are entered on the Basic Data page.

The common attributes used are:

HON	Honors Course
LC	Learning Community
WWW	Online (100% online)
WB	Web-Based (31-99% Online)
WE	Web-Enhanced (1-30% Online)
GOC	Graduate Outreach Cohort

When using Class Attributes, please refer to Appendix A for specific instructions.

Chapter 4: Maintain Schedule of Classes

Use these steps when modifying classes that were rolled from the same term of the preceding year. This would include maintaining sections already created, adding new sections, or deleting existing sections for the term specified.

Classes that are to be cancelled should be coordinated with the Office of the University Registrar.

Any questions regarding deleting sections should be directed to the Office of the University Registrar.

Chapter 7 : Defining Combined Sections

Combined sections are those courses where two or more sections of those courses meet together as if they were one class.

For example, 5500:450-001 and 5500:550-001 are two courses that are to meet together as if they were one class.

You may choose to either combine sections permanently or for just one time only. You may also choose to combine sections within or across subjects, or both.

When classes are linked to a combined section, they are all given the same Event ID. The enrollment capacities are controlled both at the section level and at the sections-combined level.

NOTE: Class sections CANNOT be combined if there are any differences in meeting patterns. Be sure to check all class sections to be combined to ensure that the meeting pattern information is the same. Another option is to leave the meeting pattern information blank until after the sections are combined. When combining sections, it is best that a facility ID exists for only one of the classes on the Meetings page.
